Purpose

Caloundra State High School is committed to providing a safe, respectful and disciplined learning environment inclusive of all students, staff, parents and visitors, where social and academic outcomes are maximised for all through interpersonal relationships, school organisation and a quality curriculum. Additionally, school practices are proactive rather than reactive and, where appropriate, non-discriminatory language and behaviours are defined, modelled and reinforced.

The Caloundra State High School Student Code of Conduct sets out the responsibilities and processes we use in our school to promote a productive and effective whole school approach to discipline.

The purpose of the Caloundra State High School Student Code of Conduct is to facilitate high standards of behaviour from everybody in the school community, ensuring learning and teaching in our school is prioritised, where all students are able to experience success and staff enjoy a safe workplace.

Learning and Behaviour Statement

All areas of Caloundra State High School are learning and teaching environments. We consider behaviour management to be an opportunity for valuable social learning as well as a means of maximising the success of academic education programs.

The Caloundra State High School community is a diverse and rich social environment where we recognise individualities and acknowledge that each person brings their own set of personal beliefs to a school community. These beliefs influence their decisions, behaviour and social practices and can also contribute to differences in expectations and force us to reflect on our own understanding of what we consider acceptable and unacceptable.

To promote the outcomes of students at Caloundra State High School, we implement a whole school, Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) framework. This framework ensures:

1. clear and consistent student expectations are identified;
2. explicit teaching of appropriate behaviour to all students;
3. staff take a proactive and preventative approach to behaviour support;
4. parent and community engagement; and
5. data informed decision-making

Our Student Code of Conduct outlines our systems for facilitating positive behaviours, preventing new cases of problem behaviours and responding to unacceptable behaviours. This document outlines the school's behavioural expectations for students, staff and parents in turn, assisting Caloundra State High School to create and maintain a safe, supportive and disciplined environment. All school community members have a responsibility to demonstrate their commitment to these clear expectations.

Our school community has identified the following three broad school values to teach and promote our high standards of responsible behaviour:

Whole-School Approach to Discipline

Caloundra State High School uses a multi-tiered system of support for discipline in the school. This is a whole-school approach, used in all classrooms and programs offered through the school, including sporting activities and excursions.

MTSS is an evidence-based framework used to:

- analyse and improve student behaviour and learning outcomes;
- ensure only evidence-based practices are used by teachers to support students; and
- continually support staff members to maintain consistent school and classroom improvement practices.

At Caloundra State High School, we believe discipline is about more than consequences. We believe that student behaviour is a part of the overall teaching and learning approach in our school. Our staff take responsibility for making their expectations clear, for providing supportive instruction about how to meet these expectations and strive to use behavioural incidents as opportunities to re-teach. Weekly behaviour lessons called 'Behaviour Beacons' are taught across the school, and staff use learning time to explicitly teach students the expected behaviours.

The development of the Caloundra State High School Student Code of Conduct is an opportunity to explain the MTSS framework to parents and students, and implement a consistent approach to teaching behaviour. The language and expectations of MTSS can be used in any environment, including the home setting for students. Doing everything we can to set students up for success is a shared goal of every parent and school staff member.

Multi-Tiered Systems of Support

Caloundra State High School uses a multi-tiered system of support for our integrated approach to learning and behaviour. MTSS is a preventative, differentiated model grounded in practical strategies, targeted planning and data-informed decision-making. Based on a problem-solving model, in MTSS, school staff match increasingly intensive interventions to the identified needs of individual students.

Universal Behaviour Support

At Caloundra State High School, all students (100%) in the school receive support for their social and behavioural development. We promote our school wide expectations through proactive and reactive strategies by:

- focusing on teaching, modelling and practising positive behaviours through Behaviour Beacons;
- scheduling the teaching of our expectations and providing refresher lessons throughout the year;
- establishing and utilising effective classroom management systems that encourage acceptable behaviour;
- explicitly teaching behaviours in the setting they will be used;
- utilising consistent protocols when addressing challenging behaviour, while taking developmental norms and behavioural function into account;
- providing training for all staff to give consistent and appropriate feedback, acknowledgement and rewards;
- explicitly teaching respectful relationships and running related activities;
- expecting all students to take responsibility for their own behaviour and the consequences of their actions;
- providing an induction for new students and staff about the school's behaviour policy;
- providing opportunities for parents and students to provide feedback on our Code of Student Conduct;
- implementing a school wide system of positive reinforcement; and

- using clear signage across the school to remind students of our expected behaviours.

Universal behaviour support includes:

- teachers knowing their students and delivering lessons in line with 'The Caloundra Way Pedagogical Framework';
- supportive and collaboratively developed programs and procedures;
- staff are trained in the Essential Skills of Classroom Management, de-escalation strategies and restorative chats;
- managed professional development for all members of the school community;
- adoption of practices that are non-violent, non-coercive and non-discriminatory;
- a continuum of whole school positive proactive actions for all students; and
- demonstration of our key expectations through a student recognition system.

Focused Behaviour Support

Approximately 10-15% of all students in any school or classroom may require additional support to meet behaviour expectations, even after being provided with differentiated and explicit teaching. These students may have difficulty meeting behavioural expectations in a particular period of the day or as part of a learning area/subject, and focused behaviour support is provided to help them achieve success.

Focused behaviour support involves revisiting key behavioural concepts and/or skills and using explicit and structured teaching strategies in particular aspects of a behaviour skill. Focused behaviour support provides students with more opportunities to practise skills and multiple opportunities to achieve the intended learning and expected behaviour. With focused support strategies:

- there is a clear connection between the skills taught in the interventions and the school-wide expectations;
- interventions require little time of classroom teachers and are easy to sustain;
- variations within each intervention are limited; and
- interventions have a good chance of working (eg they are "evidence-based" interventions that are matched to the student's need).

Students requiring additional behaviour support are identified through data such as:

- attendance data;
- academic achievement data;
- student disciplinary absence data;
- referrals from student support services; and
- referrals from Administration.

To support students who are identified as requiring Focused behaviour support, the most appropriate intervention strategies will be utilised. The following interventions may be used:

- daily check in;
- implementation of a daily monitoring process by a Head of Year with daily check in;
- intervention meetings with parents/caregivers and the student;
- modifying the educational program to cater for the individual student's needs;
- accessing student support services personnel;
- offering a variety of pro-active and restorative programs;
- accessing external support agencies;
- referral to outside agencies;

- facilitated mediation;
- Functional Behaviour Assessments;
- Individual Behaviour Support Plan – linked to re-entry goals and expectations;
- Discipline Improvement Plan; and
- Support Card.

Caloundra State High School has a range of Student Services staff in place to assist in identifying students requiring focused behaviour support and coordinate the implementation of evidence-informed programs to address specific skill development, such as:

- Rock and Water;
- Pathfinders;
- RAGE;
- Peer Mentoring

All staff involved in delivering Focused behaviour support are provided with ongoing professional development.

Intensive Behaviour Support

Research evidence shows that even in an effective, well-functioning school there will always be approximately 3 - 5% of the student population who require intensive behaviour support to achieve behavioural expectations.

Intensive behaviour support involves frequent and explicit instruction, with individuals or in small groups, to develop mastery of basic behavioural concepts, skills and knowledge.

Some students may require intensive behaviour support for a short period, for particular behaviour skills. Other students may require intensive behaviour support for a more prolonged period. Decisions about the approach will be made based on data collected from their teacher or teachers, student services, administration and following consultation with the student's family or guardians.

Intensive behaviour supports are based on the underlying reasons for a student's behaviour and include strategies to:

- PREVENT problem behaviour;
- TEACH the student an acceptable replacement behaviour;
- REINFORCE the student's use of the replacement behaviour; and
- MINIMISE the payoff for problem behaviour.

To support students who are identified as requiring Intensive Behaviour Support, the most appropriate intervention strategies may be utilised. These include:

- complex case management approach and recording on OneSchool;
- Individual Behaviour Support Plan – linked to re-entry goals and expectations;
- Discipline Improvement Plan;
- monitoring meetings with the student;
- intervention meetings with parents/caregivers and the student;
- modifying the educational program to cater for the individual student's needs, including flexible and part time learning arrangements;
- referral to external support agencies;
- monitoring the impact of support for individual students through continuous data collection; and
- making reasonable adjustments as required for the student, following monitoring of provided support.

For a small number of students who continue to display behaviours that are deemed complex and challenging, then individualised support plans and multi-agency collaboration may be provided to support the student. This approach will seek to address the acute impact of barriers to learning and participation faced by students who are negotiating a number of complex personal issues.

Consideration of Individual Circumstances

Caloundra State High School considers the individual circumstances of students when applying support and consequences by:

- promoting an environment which is responsive to the diverse needs of its students;
- establishing procedures for applying fair and equitable consequences for behavioural incidents that range from the least intrusive sanctions to the most stringent;
- recognising and considering students' ages, genders, disabilities, cultural backgrounds, socio-economic situations and their mental emotional states; and
- recognising the rights of all students to:
 - express opinions in a respectful manner and at the appropriate time;
 - work and learn in a safe environment regardless of their age, gender, disability, cultural background or socio-economic situation, and
 - receive adjustments appropriate to their learning and/or impairment needs.

In considering the individual circumstances of each student, we recognise that the way we teach, the support we provide and the way we respond to students will differ. This reflects the principle of equality, where every student is given the support they need to be successful.

Whilst communication of sensitive information is vital to our ability to consider the individual circumstances of each student, school staff will, at all times, adhere to the protocols about confidentiality including the sharing of information about individual circumstances of students with persons other than the student's parent/s/ carers.

These procedures equip key staff with a holistic understanding of each student's individualities and allow them to consider a student's individual circumstances when determining the appropriate consequences for disciplinary matters that may arise.

Confidentiality

Our teachers are obliged by law to respect and protect the privacy of individual students, so while we understand the interest of students, staff and parents to know what consequence another student might have received, we will not disclose or discuss this information with anyone but the student's family. You can be assured that school staff take all matters very seriously and will address them appropriately. We expect that parents and students will respect the privacy of other students and families.

If you have concerns about the behaviour of another student at the school, or the way our staff have responded to behavioural concerns, please contact the Principal to discuss the matter.

Student Wellbeing

At Caloundra State High School, we acknowledge the positive impact that a meaningful relationship between teacher and students can have on students' academic and social outcomes. Learning and wellbeing are inextricably linked - students learn best when their wellbeing is optimised and they develop a strong sense of wellbeing when they experience success in learning. The student learning and wellbeing framework supports state schools with creating positive school cultures and embedding student wellbeing in all aspects of school life through connecting the learning environment, curriculum and pedagogy, policies, procedures and partnerships for learning and life.

Schools build the foundations for wellbeing and lifelong learning through curriculum, embedding personal and social capabilities (self-awareness, self-management, social awareness and social management) in the implementation of the P–12 curriculum, assessment and reporting framework.

This is embedded in our whole school Level Up program that incorporates age-appropriate Respectful Relationship curriculum, drug and alcohol education that reinforces public health and safety messages and prompt response to the contemporary needs of students. In addition, Caloundra State High School provides opportunities for students to develop 21st Century skills through our commitment to implementing evidence based, programs including Education Perfect.

Student Support Services

Caloundra State High School is proud to have a comprehensive Student Services Network in place to help the social, emotional and physical wellbeing of every student. In addition to the assistance provided by class teachers, we have a team of professionals whose dedicated roles are to help ensure our school is an inclusive, nurturing environment.

Students can approach any trusted school staff member at Caloundra State High School to seek assistance or advice. If they are unable to assist, they will provide guidance and help ensure the student is connected to the appropriate representative of the Student Support Network.

These include Principal Advisor Student Protection, Mental Health Coach, Autism Coach, Inclusion Coach, Success Coach, Regional Health Nurse, Advisory Visiting Teachers and Senior Guidance Officers.

Differentiated and Explicit Behaviour Support

Caloundra State High School is a disciplined school environment that provides differentiated responses to the needs of all students. This involves teaching and modelling expected behaviours and providing opportunities for students to practise these behaviours. Teachers reinforce expected behaviours, provide feedback and opportunities for practise.

Teachers at Caloundra State High School vary how students are taught according to the behavioural learning needs of students. These decisions are made in response to data and day-to-day monitoring that indicates the individual needs of students. This enables our teachers to purposefully plan a variety of ways to engage students and assist them to achieve the expected learning.

There are three main layers to supporting the behavioural needs of students, as illustrated in the diagram below. This model is the same used for academic and pedagogical differentiation.

These three layers link directly to the tiered approach discussed earlier in the Learning and Behaviour section. For example, in the MTSS framework, Tier 1 is differentiated and explicit teaching for all students, Tier 2 is focused teaching for identified students and Tier 3 is intensive teaching for a small number of students. Each layer provides progressively more personalised supports for students.

Student Expectations

Every classroom in our school uses the table of student expectations as a basis for developing their behaviour standards (see Appendix A). Using these, the class teacher works with all students to explain and establish exactly what each of the expectations are within their classroom. Expectations are revisited regularly to address any new or emerging issues.

Parent and Staff Expectations

In addition to student expectations, Caloundra State High School has developed a series of expectations for parents when visiting our school and the standards we commit to as staff in order to support students and families (see Appendix C).

Legislative Delegations

Delegations

Under the Education (General Provisions) Act 2006, state school principals are responsible for “controlling and regulating student discipline in the school”. To assist with this process at Caloundra State High School the Principal issues ‘Instruments of Authorisations’ to the Deputy Principals to allow them to communicate their decisions regarding student discipline (see Appendix D).

Disciplinary Consequences

The disciplinary consequences model used at Caloundra State High School follows the same differentiated approach used in the proactive teaching and support of student behavioural expectations. The following flow chart outlines the processes at Caloundra State High School for facilitating standards of positive behaviour and responding to unacceptable behaviour (see Appendix E).

Differentiated Responses to Behaviour

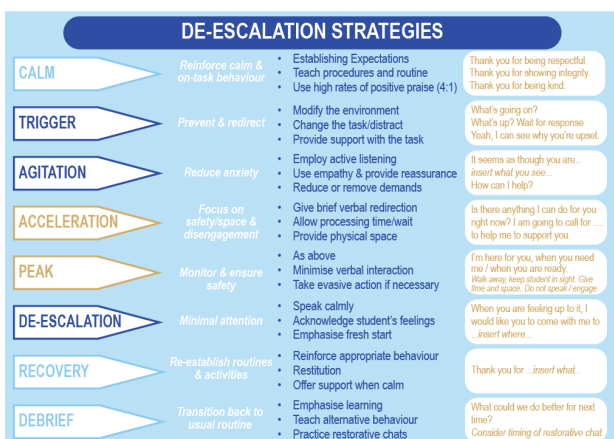

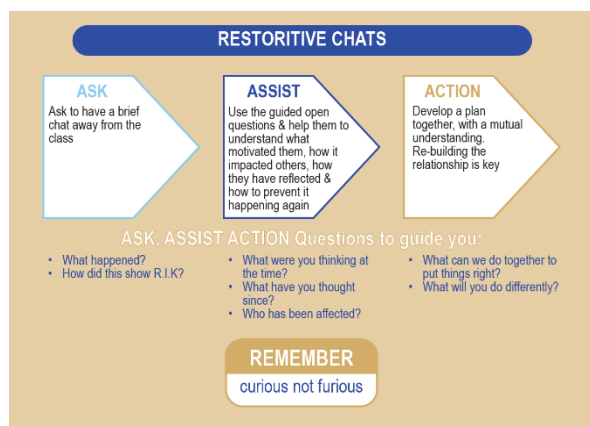

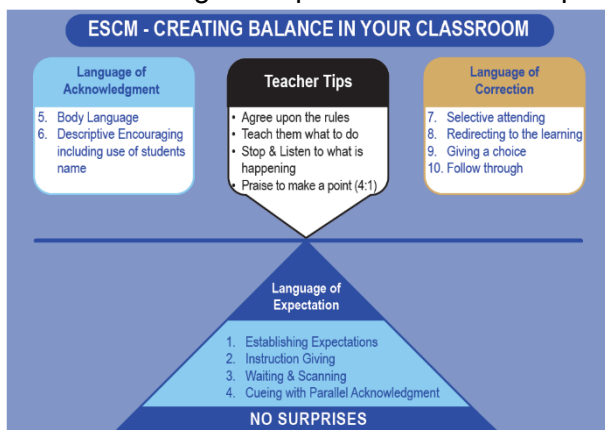

The differentiated responses to problem behaviour can be organised into three tiers, with increasing intensity of support and consequences to address behaviour that endangers others or causes major, ongoing interference with class or school operations.

Staff at Caloundra State High School are trained in the Essential Skills of Classroom Management each year, and receive ongoing professional development throughout the year to ensure they are able to support students with their behaviour. These Professional Development sessions include, but are not limited to:

- Essential Skills of Classroom Management;
- De-escalation strategies;
- Restorative practices.

All staff carry a lanyard that outlines the following information that acts as a prompt:

- Essential Skills of Classroom Management;
- Restorative chats;
- De-escalation strategies;
- Our agreed-upon whole school expectations- Respect, Integrity and Kindness.

Universal Responses

Re-directing low-level and infrequent unacceptable behaviour

When a student exhibits low-level and infrequent unacceptable behaviour, staff at Caloundra State High School apply a preventative approach to re-direction and make appropriate use of least to most intrusive strategies based on Essential Skills for Classroom Management (ESCM) (see Appendix F).

Focused Responses – Strong Choices

The Strong Choices system, is a clear process followed by all teachers at Caloundra State High School to reinforce expectations and foster positive relationships between staff and students. Once ESCM strategies have been utilised, and a student's behaviour continues to disrupt the teaching and learning, a class teacher may implement the Strong Choices system.

The Strong Choices system includes a warning using a common, school wide language that encourages the student to reflect on their behaviour and make 'Strong Choices'.

Refusal to make more appropriate choices may result in the teacher progressing through the RDC process from the RDC desk within the classroom to a removal of the student to the Re-Directed Classroom (RDC).

This process is detailed earlier in the Student Behaviour Management flow chart and also in the student table and desk poster to ensure understanding for the target audience (see Appendix G).

The RDC is a system of referral where the teacher has negotiated an alternative buddy classroom to send the student. Sending a disruptive student to an RDC allows:

- the teaching and learning process to continue in the classroom;
- a student to be removed from the immediate environment to reflect on their behavioural choices and continue on with the set work independently.

When a student is sent to the RDC classroom a referral form is completed to provide the buddy teacher with context and information related to the RDC (see Appendix H). If a student is sent to the RDC classroom, their parents/carers are contacted and the behaviour of concern is recorded on OneSchool.

Three (3) repeated RDC referrals from the same subject over a 2-week period results in a student progressing through the Strong Choices system and consequently receiving a Lock Out (managed by Head of Year, normally for 1 week) with possible further consequences (i.e., school disciplinary absence - suspension).

Detentions may be used to prevent the continued escalation of inappropriate behaviour. Detention procedures are set by the Principal and meet the requirements of the safe, supportive and disciplined school environment.

These include:

- Detentions may be applied by staff as a consequence for inappropriate/poor behaviour during lessons or at either break times;
- All detentions will be supervised by a staff member;
- Admin/Heads of Year may apply after school detentions. These detentions are only given with the approval of the administration and parents/caregivers;
- First break detention: 20 minutes maximum. The detention shall start at the start of the break, when the student or teacher arrives at the set location allowing appropriate time at the end for toilet and eating; and
- Second break: 10 minutes in length or split into 2 x 10 minutes over 2 days allowing appropriate time at the end for toilet and eating.
- Whilst also staff can issue their own, self-managed detentions, Head of Years and Administration are the only staff who can issue detentions to B12.

Intensive Responses

The school leadership team works in consultation with Student Services and a student's family/guardians to address persistent or ongoing serious problem behaviour. This may include:

- individual support plans;
- complex case management and review;
- stakeholder meeting with parents and external agencies including regional specialists;
- short term suspension (up to 10 school days);
- long term suspension (up to 20 school days);
- charge related suspension (student has been charged with a serious criminal offence is suspended from school until the charge has been dealt with by the relevant justice authorities);
- suspension pending exclusion (student is suspended from school pending a decision by the Director-General or delegate (principal) about their exclusion from school);

- exclusion (student is excluded from a particular state school site, a group of state schools or all state schools in Queensland for a defined period of time or permanently); or
- cancellation of enrolment for students older than compulsory school age who refuse to participate in the educational program provided at the school.

School Disciplinary Absences

If poor behaviour choices continue, a student may be subject to a School Disciplinary Absence (SDA) – suspension. This is an enforced period of absence from attending a Queensland state school, applied by the Principal as a consequence to address poor student behaviour. There are four types of SDA:

- Short suspension (1 to 10 school days)
- Long suspension (11 to 20 school days)
- Charge-related suspension
- Exclusion (period of not more than one year or permanently).

At Caloundra State High School, the use of any SDA is considered a very serious decision. It is typically only used by the Principal when other suitable intervention strategies have been considered. Families are advised of allegations and given the opportunity to respond before a decision is made.

Parents and students may appeal a long suspension, charge-related suspension or exclusion decision. A review will be conducted by the Director-General or their delegate, and a decision made within 40 school days to confirm, amend/vary or set aside the original SDA decision by the Principal. The appeal process is a thorough review of all documentation associated with the SDA decision and provides an opportunity for both the school and the family to present their case in the matter. Time is afforded for collection, dissemination and response to the materials by both the school and the family. It is important that the purpose of the appeal is understood so that expectations are clear, and appropriate supports are in place to ensure students can continue to access their education while completing their SDA.

Re-entry following suspension

Students who are suspended from Caloundra State High School must attend a re-entry meeting on the day of their scheduled return to school. The main purpose of this meeting is to welcome the student, with their parent/s, back to the school and develop a collaborative plan of action to set the student up for future success and strengthen home-school communication.

Students may then be placed on a Student Daily Behaviour Monitoring sheet for a period agreed to in the re-entry meeting (see Appendix I). Students are required to adhere to and demonstrate expected behaviours as per the school expectations. The monitoring sheet will be completed by all of the class teachers and reviewed by the Head of Year. Parents/caregivers are also required to review and sign the monitoring sheet. Failure to comply with this process may result in escalated consequences.

Reasonable adjustments

In planning the re-entry meeting, school staff will consider reasonable adjustments needed to support the attendance and engagement of the student. This includes selecting an appropriate and accessible meeting space, organising translation or interpretation services or supports (e.g. AUSLAN), provision of written and/or pictorial information and other relevant accommodations. The inclusion of support staff, such as Guidance Officers or Community Education Counsellors (if applicable), may also offer important advice to ensure a successful outcome to the re-entry meeting.

Post Compulsory Phase of Schooling

If a student is in the post compulsory phase of schooling (16 years of age or completed year 10), the student's enrolment may be cancelled (Cancellation of Enrolment). This means that the student will no longer be enrolled at Caloundra State High School and can no longer attend the school. Students are able to seek enrolment at another school or engage in other educational pathways such as TAFE, employment etc.

Reasons for cancellation of enrolment include:

- Refusal to participate in the program of instruction

Behaviour Outside of School

Student behaviour that affects the reputation or good order and management of the school is addressed by this Student Code of Conduct for Students. While students are out in the community, typically on their way to or from school, or at any other time when in school uniform or otherwise identifiable as a Caloundra State High School student by their clothing, conduct or association, are to abide by the school behavioural expectations. Reports of behaviours outside of school result in an immediate referral to, and involvement of a Head of Year and/or the Administration team.

School Policies

Caloundra State High School has tailored school disciplinary policies designed to ensure students, staff and visitors work cooperatively to create and maintain a supportive and safe learning environment. Please ensure that you familiarise yourself with the responsibilities for students, staff and visitors outlined in the following policies:

- Temporary removal of student property
- Use of mobile phones and other devices by students
- Preventing and responding to bullying
- Appropriate use of social media
- Safe, Responsible and Respectful Online

Temporary removal of student property

The removal of property in a student's possession may be necessary to promote the caring, safe and supportive learning environment of the school and to maintain and foster mutual respect between all state school staff and students. The temporary removal of student property by school staff procedure outlines the processes, conditions and responsibilities for state school principals and school staff when temporarily removing student property. outlines the processes, conditions and responsibilities for state school principals and school staff when temporarily removing student property.

In determining what constitutes a reasonable time to retain student property, the principal or state school staff will consider:

- the condition, nature or value of the property;
- the circumstances in which the property was removed;
- the safety of the student from whom the property was removed, other students or staff members; and
- good management, administration and control of the school.

The Principal or state school staff determine when the temporarily removed student property can be returned, unless the property has been handed to the Queensland Police Service.

The following items are explicitly prohibited at Caloundra State High School and will be removed if found in a student's possession:

- illegal items or weapons (e.g. guns, knives);
- imitation guns, knives or weapons;
- potentially dangerous items (e.g. blades, rope);
- drugs (including tobacco);
- e-cigarettes, pod vapes, vape pens, box mods and vaporizers;
- alcohol;
- aerosol deodorants or cans (including spray paint);
- explosives (e.g. fireworks, flares, sparklers);
- flammable solids or liquids (e.g. fire starters, mothballs, lighters);
- poisons (e.g. weed killer, insecticides); and
- inappropriate or offensive material (e.g. racist literature, pornography, extremist propaganda).

 The administration of medications to students by school staff is only considered when a prescribing health practitioner has determined that it is necessary or when there is no other alternative in relation to the treatment of a specific health need. Schools require medical authorisation to administer any medication to students (including over-the-counter medications such as paracetamol or alternative medicines).

Responsibilities

State school staff at Caloundra State High School:

- do not require the student's consent to search school property such as lockers, desks or laptops that are supplied to the student through the school;
- may seize a student's bag where there is suspicion that the student has a dangerous item (for example, a knife) in their school bag, prior to seeking to search from a parent or calling the police;

Use of mobile phones and other devices by students

Digital literacy refers to the skills needed to live, learn and work in a society where communication and access to information is dominated by digital technologies like mobile phones. However, the benefits brought about through these diverse technologies can be easily overshadowed by deliberate misuse which harms others or disrupts learning.

In consultation with the broader school community, Caloundra State High School has determined that mobile phones should not be present in the classroom due to their inherent disruptive influence and acknowledge that developing digital literacy is a responsibility shared between parents, school staff and students.

Students in Years 7-12 are not permitted to use their mobile phones unless explicit permission and direction has been provided by a classroom teacher. At all other times students are to secure their mobile phone in their Yondr pouch.

Student Responsibilities

The responsibilities for students using mobile phones or other devices at school and outside school, are outlined below; further information is outlined in the document, Personal devices – Student guidelines (See Appendix J).

- Switch off and place the mobile phone inside a locked Yondr pouch whilst onsite, unless the device is being used in a teacher directed activity or with teacher permission to enhance learning;
- Prior to any personal mobile device being used on the school network, approval is sought from the school to ensure it reflects the department's security requirements;
- Students are responsible for the security, integrity, insurance and maintenance of their personal mobile devices and their private network accounts (eg password complexity);
- Ensure that an appropriate antivirus software is installed and up to date that is appropriate to the device to reduce the chance of malware being transferred to the department's network;
- Any inappropriate material or unlicensed software must be removed from personal electronic devices before bringing the devices to school and such material is not to be shared with other students; and

- use a mobile device (including those with wireless or Bluetooth functionality) to cheat during exams or assessments; and
- take into or use mobile devices (including wearable technology) at exams or during class assessment unless expressly permitted by school staff.

In addition, students and their parents should:

- understand the responsibility and behaviour requirements (as outlined by the school) that come with accessing the department's ICT network facilities;
- ensure they have the skills to report and discontinue access to harmful information if presented via the internet or email; and
- be aware that:
 - access to ICT facilities and devices provides valuable learning experiences for students and supports the school's teaching and learning programs;
 - the school is not responsible for safeguarding information stored by students on departmentally-owned BYO or mobile devices;
 - students who use a school's ICT facilities and devices in a manner that is not appropriate may be subject to disciplinary action by the school, which could include restricting network access;
 - despite internal departmental controls to manage content on the internet, illegal, dangerous or offensive information may be accessed or accidentally displayed; and
 - teachers will always exercise their duty of care, but avoiding or reducing access to harmful information also requires responsible use by the student.

All schools in Queensland are committed to taking action to protect students from bullying and to respond appropriately when bullying does occur. Education Queensland and Caloundra State High School, do not tolerate bullying in any form, and schools use a range of proactive strategies to deal with bullying behaviour. Examples of types of bullying include but are not limited to: physical, verbal, social, electronic or cyber, racial, religious, gender identity and disability bullying.

It is important that students, staff and parents/carers have a shared understanding of what bullying is, how it impacts on people and how bullying is responded to at Caloundra State High School.

The agreed national definition for Australian schools describes bullying as:

- ongoing and deliberate misuse of power in relationships through repeated verbal, physical and/or social behaviour that intends to cause physical, social and/or psychological harm;
- involving an individual or a group misusing their power, or perceived power, over one or more persons who feel unable to stop it from happening;
- happening in person or online, via various digital platforms and devices and it can be obvious (overt) or hidden (covert). Bullying behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time (for example, through sharing of digital records); and
- having immediate, medium and long-term effects on those involved, including bystanders. Single incidents and conflict or fights between equals, whether in person or online, are not defined as bullying.

Behaviours that do not constitute bullying include:

- mutual arguments and disagreements (where there is no power imbalance);
- not liking someone or a single act of social rejection;
- one-off acts of meanness or spite; and
- isolated incidents of aggression, intimidation or violence.

However, these conflicts are still considered serious and need to be addressed and resolved. At Caloundra State High School, our staff will work to quickly respond to any matters raised of this nature in collaboration with students and parents.

At Caloundra State High School, we implement a number of programs and procedures to prevent bullying such as:

- A school wide Head of Year structure for students allowing both students and their families a central contact point to communicate with the school;
- STYMIE- an online reporting database that gives proactive opportunities for young people in schools and clubs to say something when they observe or experience harm;
- A Student Services support team, comprising of: Guidance Officer/s, Chaplain, School Based Youth Health Nurse, Indigenous Teacher Aide, School-based Psychologist, Head of Special Education Services as well as links to external support agencies when required;
- Proactive programs such as Rock and Water, Pathfinders, RAGE and Peer Skills are specifically designed to promote effective social skills and positive relationships;
- Whole school wellbeing program that delivers both the Respectful Relationships curriculum, promoting effective social skills and positive relationships;
- The teaching of the school's three expectations of Respect, Integrity and Kindness;
- Staff and student information sessions – creating an awareness of Caloundra State High's Anti-Bullying Policy;
- Key support staff are trained in The Method of Shared Concern bullying response;
- Guest speakers are engaged for students and parents to build awareness and strategies to address cyber-bullying.

Reporting bullying

At Caloundra State High School, reports of alleged bullying are taken seriously. Students and parents/carers may report suspected bullying in the following ways:

- Phone the school
- Email the school – e.g. Head of Year
- Students submit incident reports personally or anonymously through STYMIE
- Students submit incident reports personally
- Reports of alleged bullying will be collated and monitored to identify particular areas of concern for action and/or
- Key Contacts: Head of Year, HOD

Responding to bullying

When determining how to best respond to bullying, Caloundra State High School seeks to implement evidence based, anti-bullying programs. In order to address the contemporary needs of our students, Caloundra State High School accesses the 'Be You' Program directory as a resource to select these programs. To ensure these programs suit the Caloundra State High School context, the 'STEPS' decision making tool is used in conjunction with the Department's 'Standards of Evidence' tool to measure impact and suitability for the concerns raised. Additionally, the Bullying No Way resources are utilised to provide regular Professional Development to staff to promote their capacity to recognise and respond to bullying and cyberbullying. Our Heads of Year are trained in the Method of Shared Concern response method and support programs such as AMAYDA are utilised to support students who have been bullied.

The following flowchart explains the actions Caloundra State High School staff will take when they receive a report about alleged student bullying, including bullying which may have occurred online or outside of the school setting (see Appendix K). Staff will engage professional judgment when managing and assessing these concerns and the risk to student/s. Each step below generally takes approximately one school day to complete. Please note these timelines may be adjusted depending on the unique circumstances and risk associated with each situation. This is at the professional judgment of the staff involved. Staff may also use the Incident Screener (see Appendix L) to gather information regarding incidents of alleged bullying.

As an additional measure promote our expectations with parents and students, Caloundra State High School includes The Anti-Bullying Compact in all enrolment packs (see Appendix M). The compact specifies the definition of bullying and can be revisited with individual students if particular problems around bullying arise.

Cyberbullying

Cyberbullying is treated at Caloundra State High School with the same level of seriousness as in-person bullying. The major difference with cyberbullying however is that, unlike in-person bullying, cyberbullying follows students into their community, their homes and their bedrooms, giving them no opportunity to escape the harassment or abuse during the evening, weekends or holidays.

In the first instance, students or parents who wish to make a report about cyberbullying should approach the Principal for assistance in preventing and responding to cyberbullying. If necessary, the school can then utilise the flowchart on Cyberbullying to investigate concerns and determine actions (see Appendix N).

It is important for students, parents and staff to know that state school principals have the authority to take disciplinary action to address student behaviours that occur outside of school hours or school grounds. This includes cyberbullying. Parents and students who have concerns about cyberbullying incidents occurring during school holidays should immediately seek assistance through the Office of the e-Safety Commissioner or the Queensland Police Service.

Students enrolled at Caloundra State High School may face in-school disciplinary action, such as detention or removing of privileges, or more serious consequences such as suspension or exclusion from school for engaging in behaviour that adversely affects, or is likely to adversely affect, other students or the good order and management of the school. This includes behaviour such as cyberbullying which occurs outside school hours or settings, for example on the weekend or during school holidays. It also applies to inappropriate online behaviour of enrolled students that is directed towards other community members or students from other school sites.

Parents or other stakeholders who engage in inappropriate online behaviour towards students, staff or other parents may be referred to the Office of the e-Safety Commissioner and/or the Queensland Police Service. State school staff will be referred for investigation to the Integrity and Employee Relations team in the Department of Education. Any questions or concerns about the school process for managing or responding to cyberbullying should be directed to the Principal.

Cybersafety and Reputation Management (CRM)

The Department of Education employs a dedicated team of experts to assist in maintaining the integrity of the department's reputation with regards to cybersafety and reputation management issues, effectively leading the development and implementation of departmental cybersafety processes.

This team provides direct support for schools to respond to concerns of inappropriate online behaviour and misuse of information and communication technology.

The team provides a guide for parents with important information about cybersafety and cyberbullying, and suggestions about what you can do if your child is a target or responsible for inappropriate online behaviour.

The team has also developed a Cyberbullying and reputation management (department employees only) resource to assist principals in incident management. For more information about cybersafety sessions at your school, or for assistance with issues relating to online behaviour, contact the team (department employees only).

Student Intervention and Support Services

Caloundra State High School recognises the need to provide intervention and support to all students involved in incidents of bullying, including cyberbullying.

Students who have been subject or a witness to bullying have access to a range of internal support staff, as identified in the Student Support Services section earlier in this document. Students are however, also encouraged to approach any staff member with whom they feel comfortable sharing their concerns, regardless of their role in the school. All staff at Caloundra State High School are familiar with the response expectations to reports of bullying, and will act quickly to ensure students' concerns are addressed. Depending on the nature of the reported bullying incident, a formal plan of action may be developed and documented to support the implementation of strategies to assist the student.

Students who engage in bullying behaviours towards others will also be provided with support to assist them to use more socially acceptable and appropriate behaviours in their interactions. This includes counselling, social development programs, referral to mental health services or involvement in a restorative justice strategy. School disciplinary measures may also be used to reinforce the seriousness with which the community takes all incidents of bullying. These measures may include internal school suspension, withdrawal from social events or celebrations or more severe punishments such as suspension or exclusion from school.

Appropriate use of social media

The internet, mobile phones and social media provide opportunities for students to network and socialise online. The department acknowledges the growing popularity of social media both as a communication and educational tool supporting its appropriate use. It also acknowledges the potential for damage to be caused (either directly or indirectly) to students, families and staff through the inappropriate use of social media.

Students must understand they are responsible for the content they publish on social media platforms so it is important they understand what is expected of them while using social media. Reputations of students, teachers, schools, principals and even parents can be permanently damaged — and in some cases, serious instances of inappropriate online behaviour are dealt with by police and the court system.

At Caloundra State High School, students are informed of what appropriate Social Media use is and the school's expectations regarding this through their Wellbeing program (Cybersafety & Reputation Management). Social media use that adversely affects, or is likely to adversely affect, other students, school staff or the good order, management and reputation of the school will be managed on a case-by-case basis and may result in the removal of privileges, or more serious consequences such as suspension or exclusion from school.

Possible civil or criminal ramifications of online commentary

A serious instance of inappropriate online behaviour may constitute a criminal offence and become a police matter. For example, online content may substantiate the offence of 'using a carriage service to menace, harass or cause offence' (Criminal Code Act 1995 (Cth) s. 474.17). School staff may contact their union or obtain personal legal advice if they feel that online content seriously impacts their reputation. Defamatory online content may give rise to litigation under the Defamation Act 2005 (Qld).

Restrictive Practices

School staff at Caloundra State High School need to respond to student behaviour that presents a risk of physical harm to the student themselves or others. It is anticipated most instances of risky behaviour can be de-escalated and resolved quickly. On some rarer occasions, a student's behaviour may continue to escalate and staff need to engage immediately with positive and proactive strategies aimed at supporting the student to manage their emotional arousal and behaviour.

In some very rare situations, where there is immediate risk of physical harm to the student or other people, and when all other alternative strategies have failed to reduce the risk, it may be necessary for staff to use restrictive practices.

Some examples of where Restrictive practices may be used at Caloundra State High School include:

- Physical Restraint and Seclusion - the student is behaving in a way that poses an immediate foreseeable risk of harm to themselves or others;
- Containment - to support the reintegration of a student in the school environment when there is evidence that the student presents a risk of harm to themselves or other people or in response to frequent behaviour presenting a risk of harm to the student or other people; and
- Mechanical - when the practice is prescribed in response to a specific behaviour (eg self-injurious behaviour) in consultation with qualified health professionals, families and key staff.

Medication – Chemical

State school staff may administer medications prescribed by a health professional for the student in accordance with Administration of Medications in Schools procedure. For a student who has prescribed emergency medication for their health condition, if the medication is required, state school staff should administer it to the student with reference to the student's Emergency Health Plan or Action Plan and their "Administration of Medication at School Record Sheet" (see Guidelines for the administration of medication in schools).

The use of restrictive practices will always be as a last resort, when there is no other available option for reducing immediate risk to the student, staff or other people. Restrictive practices are not used for punishment or as a disciplinary measure.

The department's Restrictive Practices procedure is written with consideration for the protection of everyone's human rights, health, safety and welfare. There are six fundamental principles: is written with consideration for the protection of everyone's human rights, health, safety and welfare. There are six fundamental principles:

1. Regard to the human rights of those students
2. Safeguards students, staff and others from harm
3. Ensures transparency and accountability
4. Places importance on communication and consultation with parents and carers
5. Maximises the opportunity for positive outcomes, and
6. Aims to reduce or eliminate the use of restrictive practices.

Very rarely, restrictive practices will be planned and staff will employ, when necessary, pre-arranged strategies and methods (of physical restraint/ mechanical restraint/ clinical holding) which are based upon behaviour risk assessment or clinical health need and are recorded in advance. The use of planned strategies will only be where there is foreseeable immediate risk consistent with the Restrictive Practices procedure.

Seclusion will not be used as a planned response and will only be used in serious circumstances for managing an unforeseeable situation in an emergency. It will be used for the shortest time possible and in a safe area that presents no additional foreseeable risk to the student. In such emergencies, a staff member will observe the student at all times and seclusion will cease as soon as possible.

All incidents of restrictive practices will be recorded and reported in line with departmental procedures.

Following the use of any restrictive practice, a focused review will help staff to understand how they responded to the risk in any incident that involved the use of a restrictive practice. Staff will consider whether there are other options for managing a similar situation in the future. This strategy works well for reducing the use of restrictive practices.

Critical Incidents

It is important that all school staff have a consistent understanding of how to respond in emergencies involving student behaviour that seriously endangers the student or others. This consistency ensures that appropriate actions are taken to ensure both students and staff are kept safe.

A critical incident is defined as an occurrence that is sudden, urgent, and usually unexpected, or an occasion requiring immediate action (eg in the community, on the road). The aim in these situations is to bring the behaviour of the student under rapid and safe control. It is not a time to try and punish or discipline the student; it is a crisis management period only.

Staff should follow the documented plan for any student involved in regular critical incidents, which should be saved and available for staff to review in OneSchool.

For unexpected critical incidents, staff should use basic defusing techniques:

1. Avoid escalating the problem behaviour: Avoid shouting, cornering the student, moving into the student's space, touching or grabbing the student, sudden responses, sarcasm, becoming defensive, communicating anger and frustration through body language.
2. Maintain calmness, respect and detachment: Model the behaviour you want students to adopt, stay calm and controlled, use a serious measured tone, choose your language carefully, avoid humiliating the student, be matter of fact and avoid responding emotionally.
3. Approach the student in a non-threatening manner: Move slowly and deliberately toward the problem situation, speak privately to the student/s where possible, speak calmly and respectfully, minimise body language, keep a reasonable distance, establish eye level position, be brief, stay with the agenda, acknowledge cooperation, withdraw if the situation escalates.
4. Follow through: If the student starts displaying appropriate behaviour, briefly acknowledge their choice and re-direct other students' attention towards their usual work/activity. If the student continues with the problem behaviour, then remind them of the expected school behaviour and identify consequences of continued unacceptable behaviour.

5. Debrief: At an appropriate time when there is low risk of re-escalation, help the student to identify the sequence of events that led to the unacceptable behaviour, pinpoint decision moments during the sequence of events, evaluate decisions made, and identify acceptable decision options for future situations.

Caloundra State High School

Student Guidelines Managing Personal Electronic Devices in School

Rationale

Caloundra State High School ensures students are educated about the appropriate and safe use of personal technologies through our programs and procedures. A personal responsibility for the appropriate and safe use of these technologies is important to our sense of community and togetherness while at school. These student guidelines support an orderly learning environment at Caloundra State High School.

The following personal electronic devices are not permitted at school:

- Mobile phone
- Wireless headphones

Laptop/tablet computers are to be brought to school every day as a learning device and guidelines for their use is detailed in the Student Code of Conduct. Smartwatches must have notifications disabled. If smartwatches become a disruption to learning, consequences similar to mobile phone violations may apply.

Procedure

Families are supported to stay connected for safety reasons during travel to and from school by the following:

- All students are provided with a Yondr pouch.
- The pouch is part of the school dress code so students must have their pouch with them every day.
- The pouch is the property of the school.
- Students are responsible for maintaining the pouch in working condition.

- Year 11 & 12 Students may access their mobile phone for educational reasons under the direction and supervision of a teacher. Teachers can borrow a mobile magnet to unlock pouches.
- In some individual cases, students with a disability may have access to their phone as part of their Personalised Learning Plan to support their education.
- Students that use their phone as part of their Health Plan (F.g. for diabetes management) can have a Velcro pouch.

Forgotten pouch

- Student reports to D14 to collect pouch pass for the day and returns to directing teacher. Pouch pass is recorded by D14. This does not exempt students from the violation process below.

Lost or damaged pouch

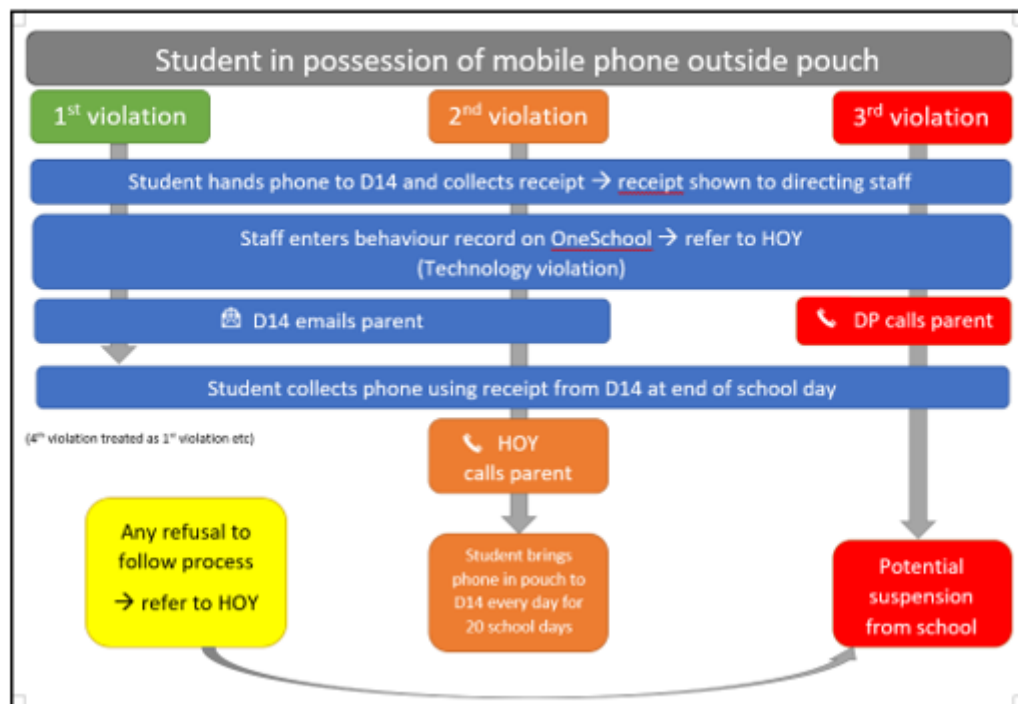

- Student reports to D14 to collect replacement pouch and invoice will be sent home ($15)

Excursions

- Student mobile phones are not required to be inside a pouch when offsite on an excursion and can only be used under the direction of a teacher.

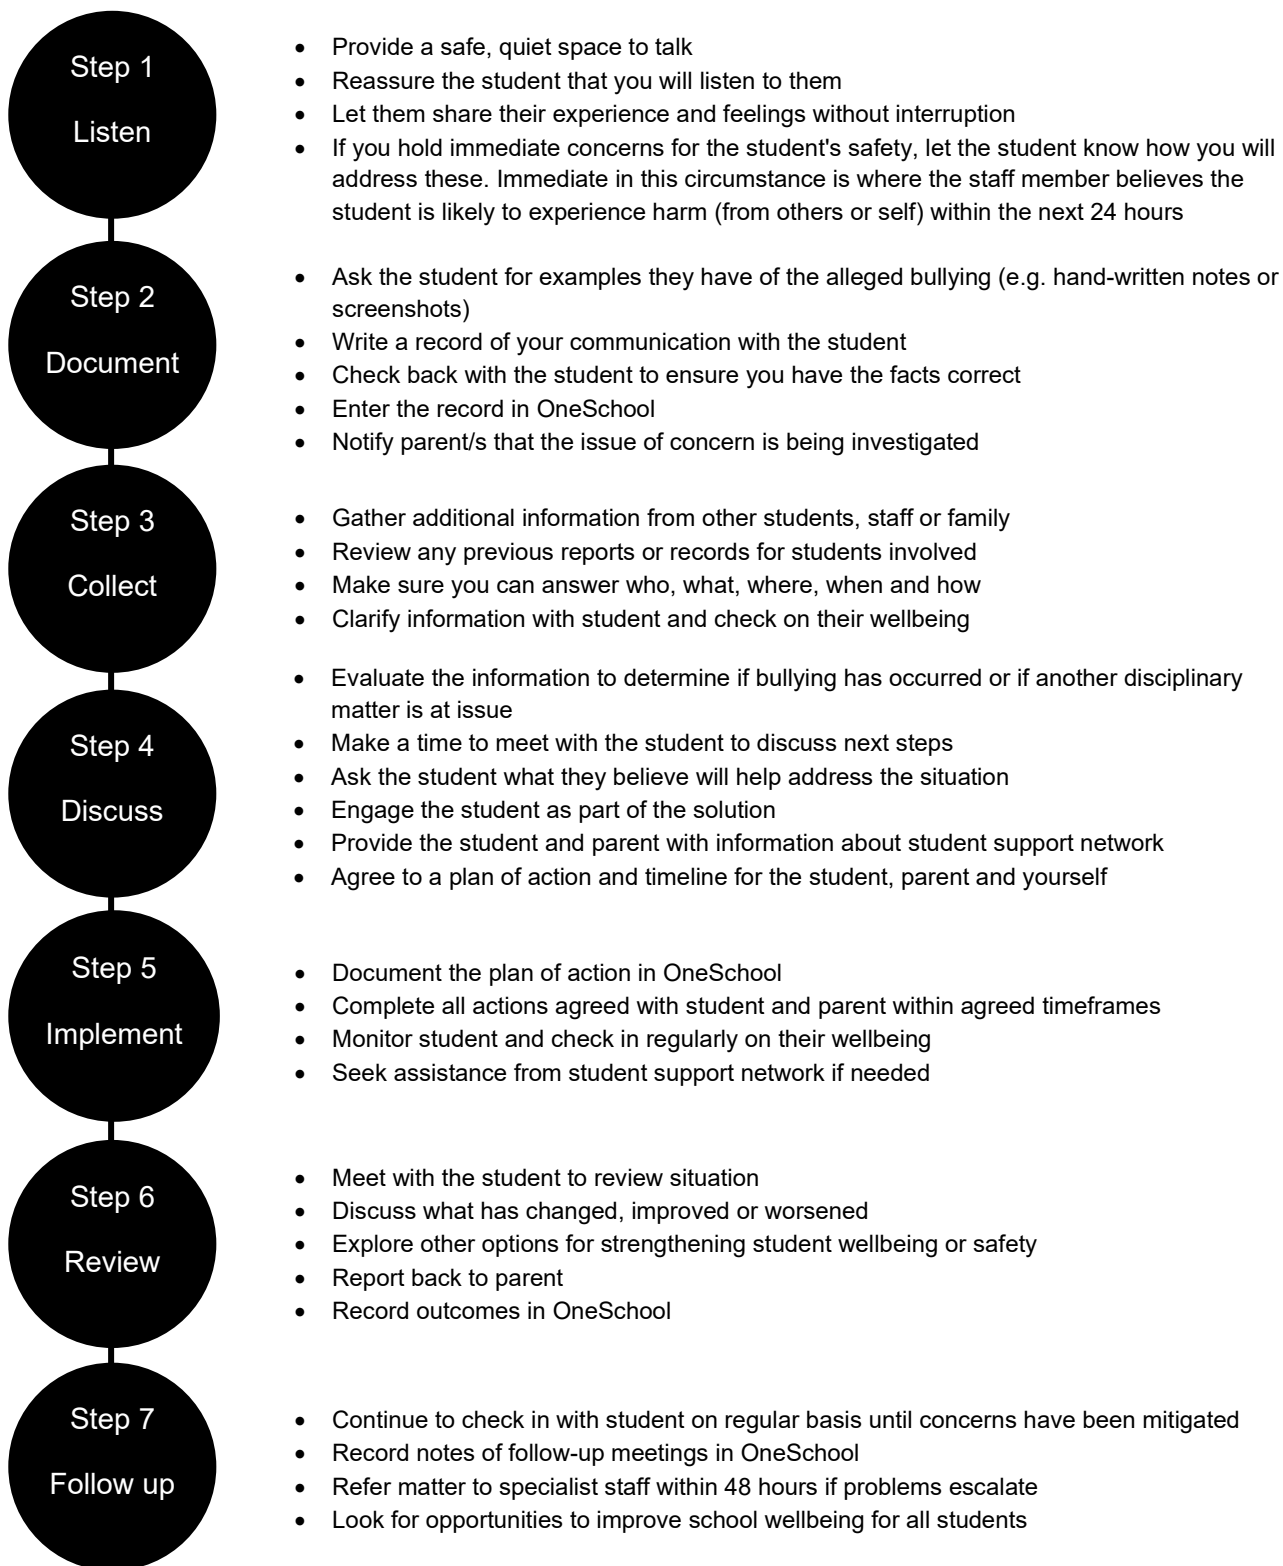

Violations

- If a student is caught in possession of a mobile phone outside of a pouch on school grounds, the following process will be followed.

Appendix M – Bullying Compact

Caloundra State High School – Anti-Bullying Compact

The Anti-Bullying Compact provides a clear outline of the way our community at Caloundra State High School works together to establish a safe, supportive and disciplined school environment. This compact is provided to all students and their parents upon enrolment and may be revisited with individual students if particular problems around bullying arise.

We agree to work together to improve the quality of relationships in our community at Caloundra State High School. It is through intentional consideration of our behaviour and communication that we can reduce the occurrence of bullying and improve the quality of the schooling experience for everyone.

The agreed national definition for Australian schools describes bullying as:

- ongoing and deliberate misuse of power in relationships through repeated verbal, physical and/or social behaviour that intends to cause physical, social and/or psychological harm;
- involving an individual or a group misusing their power, or perceived power, over one or more persons who feel unable to stop it from happening;
- happening in person or online, via various digital platforms and devices and it can be obvious (overt) or hidden (covert). Bullying behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time (for example, through sharing of digital records); and/or
- having immediate, medium and long-term effects on those involved, including bystanders. Single incidents and conflict or fights between equals, whether in person or online, are not defined as bullying.

We believe that no one deserves to be mistreated and that everyone regardless of race, colour, religion, immigration status, nationality, size, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, popularity, athletic ability, academic outcomes, social ability, or intelligence has the right to feel safe, secure, and respected.

I agree to:

- treat everyone with kindness and respect;
- abide by the school's anti-bullying policies and procedures;
- support individuals who have been bullied;
- speak out against any form of bullying as listed above; and
- notify a parent, teacher, or school administrator when bullying does occur.
